

An Act relating to public finance; authorizing negotiations to convert certain outstanding tax credits into refundable credits; establishing certain requirement for capital improvement and job creation and applying limits to applicability thereof; specifying entities responsible for negotiations; providing for codification; and providing an effective date.