

An Act relating to the Department of Human Services; prohibiting Department from seeking certain waivers; prohibiting Department from considering certain standards for eligibility determination; providing for codification; and providing an effective date.