MOTION

Representative Young moved that the remarks by Representative Shelton be printed in the House Journal, which motion was declared adopted. The remarks were as follows:

“Mr. Speaker and Mr. Floor Leader, I want to thank you for the opportunity to take a moment of personal privilege.

Members, if you’ll indulge me with a moment of your time and grant me a bit of latitude with my comments, I’d like to talk to you about a very important issue that affects every one of us in this Chamber.

I’m certain, by now, we are all aware of a video recorded at the University of Oklahoma this past Saturday that showed members of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity chanting derogatory and racially insensitive comments. I’ll be honest, it takes a great deal to shock me. However, the actions displayed on the video were troubling and appalling. And in 2015, it saddens me to know that such behavior would be so blatantly exhibited.

Within hours of the video's release, two students had been expelled for their role in the matter and the fraternity at issue was ordered off the campus. I'm sure that many throughout the community have been rejoicing because of the quick actions of the university. I want to pause for a moment to commend the students that have peacefully demonstrated. While I'm supportive of the actions taken and commend President Boren and university officials for their decisiveness, I want to address the bigger implications arising out of the actions of a few ignorant individuals.

On one side, there are now several young people, because of what they did, who won't be able to receive an education from one of the nation's most prominent universities. On the other side, high school seniors in Oklahoma and around the country are having conversations with their parents about whether the University of Oklahoma is a right fit for their future studies or even worse, whether the State of Oklahoma is even a good fit at all.

While one isolated incident of bigotry is tragic, the real tragedy is our community's inability to address and communicate with one another about our differences. After all, racism and bigotry is not an inherited trait, it is a learned behavior. And it's a behavior born out of a lack of knowledge and understanding.

Over the last few days, some have apologized to me and others for the ugliness that transpired. While I appreciate their thoughts and concerns, I don't believe it's their responsibility to apologize for the bad behavior of others.

Instead, I hope and pray that they and we as leaders would take ugly moments like these and use them as an opportunity to come together, to love one another and to educate each other, especially our children, about our experiences, our differences and our commonalities. For those things that unite us will always be stronger than those things that divide us.

One 10-second video filled with ignorance and hate has embarrassed our university, our citizens and our state.

But as a proud member of the House of Representatives, as a proud citizen of this great state and a proud citizen of this great country, I know that together, we can overcome this unfortunate moment in our history.

Therefore, I urge our leaders and all Oklahomans not to run from this conversation but to engage in it; not to close our ears to our neighbors but to listen to one another; and not to close our eyes to our differences but to gaze upon them and celebrate our diversity.

For only then will we, together, confront the challenges of ignorance and bigotry in our society and continue our march towards peace, love and equality for all of God's children.

Members, thank you for your time and God bless each of you and our beloved State of Oklahoma."
