1       SECTION 1.       NEW LAW       A new section of law to be codified
2 in the Oklahoma Statutes as Section 3249 of Title 70, unless there
3 is created a duplication in numbering, reads as follows:

4       A. This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Forming 5 Open and Robust University Minds Act".

6       B. As used in this act only:

7       1. "Benefit" means the following:

- 8           a. recognition,
- 9           b. registration,
- 10          c. the use of facilities of the institution of higher 11             education for meetings or speaking purposes,
- 12          d. the use of channels of communication, and
- 13          e. funding sources that are otherwise available to other 14             student associations at the public institution of 15             higher education;

16       2. "Campus community" includes students, administrators, 17 faculty and staff at the institution of higher education and their 18 invited guests;

19       3. "Counterdemonstration" means lawful action or conduct that 20 criticizes or objects to the free expression activities of others on 21 campus, and does not violate the rights of others in the campus
22 community by materially disrupting previously scheduled or reserved
23 activities in a portion or section of the campus at that scheduled 24 time;

1       4. "Harassment" shall mean only that expression that is 2       unwelcome, directed toward a person and is discriminatory on the 3       basis prohibited by federal or state law and that is so severe, 4       pervasive, and subjectively and objectively offensive that it 5       unreasonably interferes with an individual's access to educational 6       opportunities or benefits provided by the public institution of 7       higher education;

8       5. "Outdoor areas of campus" means the generally accessible 9       outside areas of campus where members of the campus community are 10      commonly allowed, such as grassy areas, walkways or other similar 11      common areas, and does not include outdoor areas where access is 12      restricted to a majority of the campus community;

13      6. "State educational institution" means the term as defined in 14      Section 3102 of Title 70 of the Oklahoma Statutes;

21      higher education as defined in this section.

22      C. Expressive activities protected under the provisions of the 23      Forming Open and Robust University Minds Act include, but are not 24      limited to, any lawful verbal or written means by which individuals

1 may communicate ideas to one another, including all forms of 2 peaceful assembly, protests, speeches and guest speakers,
3 distribution of literature, carrying signs and circulating
4 petitions.

5 D. State educational institutions may maintain and enforce 6 reasonable time, place and manner restrictions narrowly tailored in 7 service of a significant institutional interest only when such 8 restrictions employ clear, published, content- and viewpoint-neutral 9 criteria, and provide for ample alternative means of expression.
10 Any such restrictions shall allow for members of the campus 11 community to spontaneously and contemporaneously assemble and 12 distribute literature. State educational institutions may designate 13 outdoor areas as limited traditional public forums for use by campus 14 community members for a limited purpose.

15 E. Nothing in the Forming Open and Robust University Minds Act
16 shall be interpreted as limiting the right of student expression 17 elsewhere on campus.

18 F. Any person who wishes to engage in noncommercial expressive 19 activity on campus shall be permitted to do so freely, as long as 20 the person's conduct is not unlawful and does not materially and 21 substantially disrupt the functioning of the state educational 22 institution, subject only to the requirements of subsection D of 23 this section.

1       G. Nothing in the Forming Open and Robust University Minds Act 2 shall prohibit state educational institutions from maintaining and 3 enforcing reasonable time, place and manner restrictions that are 4 narrowly tailored to serve a significant institutional interest only 5 when such restrictions employ clear, published, content- and 6 viewpoint-neutral criteria. Any such restrictions shall allow for 7 members of the campus community to spontaneously and 8 contemporaneously assemble.

9       H. Nothing in the Forming Open and Robust University Minds Act
10 shall be interpreted as preventing state educational institutions 11 from prohibiting, limiting or restricting expression that the First 12 Amendment does not protect (e.g., true threats, and expression 13 directed to provoke imminent lawless actions and likely to produce 14 it), or prohibiting harassment as defined in paragraph 4 of 15 subsection B of this section.

16       I. Nothing in the Forming Open and Robust University Minds Act 17 shall be interpreted as limiting the right of members of the campus 18 community to hold demonstrations or counterdemonstrations, so long 19 as the conduct of such demonstrations or counterdemonstrations is 20 not unlawful and does not materially and substantially prohibit the 21 free expression rights of others on campus, or disrupt the 22 functioning of the institution of higher education.

23       J. No state educational institution may deny a belief-based 24 student organization any benefit or privilege available to any other

1 student organization, or otherwise discriminate against a belief-
2 based organization based on the expression of the organization, 3 including any requirement that the leaders or members of such 4 organization:

5 1. Affirm and adhere to the organization's sincerely held 6 beliefs;

7 2. Comply with the organization's standards of conduct; or

8 3. Further the organization's mission or purpose, as defined by 9 the student organization.

10 K. State educational institutions shall make public in their 11 handbooks, on their websites, and through their orientation programs 12 for students the policies, regulations and expectations of students
13 regarding free expression on campus consistent with the Forming Open 14 and Robust University Minds Act.

15 L. State educational institutions shall develop materials, 16 programs and procedures to ensure that those persons who have 17 responsibility for discipline or education of students, such as 18 administrators, campus police officers, residence life officials and 19 professors, understand the policies, regulations and duties of state 20 educational institutions regarding free expression on campus
21 consistent with the Forming Open and Robust University Minds Act.

22 M. Any person or student association aggrieved by a violation
23 of this act may bring an action in Oklahoma state courts against a 24 state educational institution and any other persons responsible for

1 the violation and seek appropriate relief, including, but not 2 limited to, injunctive relief, monetary damages, reasonable attorney
3 fees and court costs. Any person or student organization aggrieved 4 by a violation of this act may assert such violation as a defense or 5 counterclaim in any disciplinary action or in any civil or 6 administrative proceedings brought against such student or student 7 organization. Nothing in this section shall be interpreted to limit 8 any other remedies available to any person or student organization.

9 N. A person shall be required to bring suit for violation of 10 this section not later than one (1) year after the day the cause of 11 action accrues. For purposes of calculating the one-year limitation 12 period, each day that the violation persists and each day that a 13 policy in violation of this section remains in effect shall 14 constitute a new violation of this section and therefore a new day 15 that the cause of action has accrued.

16 O. It is the intent of the Legislature that the Oklahoma State
17 Regents for Higher Education adopt a model policy for each state 18 educational institution to adopt on free expression that contains, 19 at least, the following:

20 1. A statement that the primary function of an institution of 21 higher education is the discovery, improvement, transmission and 22 dissemination of knowledge by means of research, teaching, 23 discussion and debate. This statement shall provide that, to 24

1 fulfill this function, the institution must strive to ensure the 2 fullest degree of intellectual freedom and free expression; and

3 2. A statement that it is not the proper role of the 4 institution to shield individuals from speech protected by the First 5 Amendment, including, without limitation, ideas and opinions they 6 find unwelcome, disagreeable or even deeply offensive; that students
7 and faculty have the freedom to discuss any problem that presents 8 itself as the First Amendment permits and within the limits of 9 reasonable viewpoint- and content-neutral restrictions on time, 10 place and manner of expression that are consistent with the Forming 11 Open and Robust University Minds Act and that are necessary to 12 achieve a significant institutional interest, provided that these 13 restrictions are clear, published and provide ample alternative 14 means of expression. Students and faculty shall be permitted to 15 assemble and engage in spontaneous expressive activity as long as 16 such activity is not unlawful and does not materially and 17 substantially disrupt the functioning of the institution, subject to 18 the requirements of this subsection, and that the public areas of 19 campuses of the institution are designated public forums, open on 20 the same terms to any speaker.

21 SECTION 2. This act shall become effective November 1, 2018.
