Research Analysis

HB 1613 changes the name of the 2011 Shale Reservoir Development Act to the Horizontal Well Development Act. The definitions for associated common source of supply and Marmaton common source of supply are removed, and the definition for targeted reservoir is expanded to include one designated as potentially suited for development through a horizontal well. References to specific sources or to shale reservoirs are replaced with the term targeted reservoir. The measure also updates statutory language.
