Fiscal Analysis

The measure establishes an appeal process to be administered by the Oklahoma State Board of Education for charter schools rejected by local school districts. It is anticipated that the measure would require approximately seven to eight hours preparing for and conducting such a hearing. The Oklahoma State Board of Education may hire an impartial hearing officer at an estimated hourly rate of $150 at an estimated cost of $1,050-$1,200 per hearing. It is not known how many hearings may occur in a fiscal year.
