Research Analysis

The measure also requires notice to the Oklahoma Strategic Military Planning Commission of intent to build a wind energy facility.

Fiscal Analysis

The Oklahoma Corporation Commission (OCC) estimates the measure would have, a minimum, of $166,000 impact annually due to specific language in the measure. The agency further anticipates a fiscal impact at minimum of $3,080 per filing if uncontested and without intervenors or appeals.

The current statute, for the Commission has rules allowing all information to be submitted to the OCC via the Oklahoma Public Utilities Division (PUD). Approximations are that with the current proposed language the fiscal impact per submission is estimated to be less than $50 to accept and post for public access.

Other Considerations

According to the OCC, language proposed would allow for unintended and unwanted potential litigation.
