Research Analysis

The Committee Substitute to HB 3295 modifies the definition of “offender” as used in the Delayed Sentencing Program for Young Adults by increasing the age limit to 25 years of age.

Prepared By: Brad Wolgamott

Fiscal Analysis

HB 3295, which increases the age (from 21 to 25) of individuals allowed to participate in the Delayed Sentencing Program for Young Adults, is determined to have possible savings for the state in reducing adult incarceration rates. These savings are expected to be minimal.
