Fiscal Analysis

The measure in its current form establishes an apprenticeship graduation program for high school students. The measure requires the development of curriculum by the State Department of Education for the program. It is not yet known if additional FTE will be necessary for the full implementation of the program or the extent to which new curriculum will need to be developed. If after the full development of the program that additional staff is necessary either on the state or district level, there may be a significant fiscal impact.
