Research Analysis

SB 1225 adds to the definitions of certified project and preengineered project a requirement that the agency responsible for the project consult with the statewide one-call notification center to certify that the project right-of-way is clear of underground facilities or to have underground facilities located. The measure also limits, to 500 feet in incorporated areas or one mile in unincorporated areas, the proposed area of work identified in notice sent by an excavator to affected operators.
