Research Analysis

CCR A for SB441 makes no changes to the school calendar until the 2021-2022 school year.

Beginning with the 2021-2022 school year, schools are required to be in session no less than 1,080 hours, and no fewer than 165 days each school year. Any school district wanting to go fewer than 165 days a year must meet minimum guidelines for student performance and school district cost savings established by the State Board of Education. The school must still be in session for at least 1,080 hours.

The CCR A for SB441 requires the guidelines for student performance and school district cost savings established by the State Board of Education to be approved by the Legislature.

Fiscal Analysis

The measure alters the current school calendar by requiring 165 days each school year. The measure also provides schools that currently do not meet the 165 day requirement an opportunity to maintain that abbreviated schedule if they can demonstrate that they meet or exceed OSDE student performance standards while utilizing cost efficient measures. This is not expected to result in a direct fiscal impact to the State Department of Education, though it may have some additional impact to certain districts which cannot be determined at this time.
