Bill Analysis

SB 1830 authorizes the application for a license to practice podiatric medicine to be submitted in electronic form and modifies certain application requirements. The measure also specifies that a temporary license shall expire upon the Board of Podiatric Medical Examiners' approval of a permanent license or 10 days after denial. The measure also stipulates that the State Board of Medical Licensure and Supervision may issue a temporary perfusionist license to an applicant who has submitted a completed application. The temporary license shall expire upon the State Board's approval of a permanent license or 10 days after denial.
