Research Analysis

HB1620, as introduced, prohibits state, county, and local governments from banning the use of working animals or a working animal enterprise.

Fiscal Analysis

HB 1620 protects the use of working animals. It does not create a burden on local governments or state agencies, but prevents them from placing one on those who use working animals. Therefore, it seems unlikely to create a fiscal burden on any of these entities or agencies. Given this, it does not appear that HB 1620 will create a fiscal impact on the State's budget or appropriations.
