Research Analysis

The committee substitute for HB3410 takes out being engaged in delinquent behaviors but under 10 years old from the amended definition of "child or juvenile in need of supervision." Then, the CS also removes a parent, legal guardian, or other custodian and a peace officer from the list of individuals in the introduced version who can submit a sworn affidavit for a request for a child in need of supervision to the district attorney.

HB3410 adds several sections to the definition of "child or juvenile in need of supervision" including:

- identified as a minor victim of human trafficking or commercial sexual exploitation
- admitted to a group home, long-term residential psychiatric facility, or residential facility and has a parent or guardian who has not meaningfully participated in services for the juvenile's success
- engaging in behaviors that cause the juvenile to be a danger to self or others

The child can be taken into custody if a request for a child in need of supervision is submitted to the district attorney in the form of a sworn affidavit from a designated individual.
