Fiscal Analysis

The first amendment to the first floor amendment provides for certain compensation to members of the Board of Judicial Performance Evaluation. The first amendment would allow for travel reimbursement to board members, as well as $100 payable to board members for each day of service to the Board.

The first amendment to the first floor amendment would increase the fiscal impact of the first floor amendment. By providing for board member compensation, the first amendment to the first floor amendment would increase the estimated ongoing costs of the measure.
