Research Analysis

The engrossed version of SB 1835 directs the Oklahoma Water Resources Board to send noncompliant medical marijuana businesses a report stating necessary actions or remedies to bring their water permit into compliance. The business has 15 days to respond; after 90 days, the measure authorizes the board to take any action to bring the business into compliance, including an administrative penalty of up to $5,000 per day. The business's failure to comply may result in revocation of the water permit.
