Bill Analysis

SB 1256 authorizes a public body to designate and not disclose telephone numbers of public employees that are not intended for public use. Additionally, the measure provides that information not available to the defendant pursuant to the Oklahoma Criminal Discovery Code shall not be considered an open record as it relates to law enforcement disclosing certain records to the public. Dispatch laws, including listing of the calls dispatched by date and address, and names of officers dispatched to the scene must be made available for public inspection and copying.
