Bill Analysis

SB 272 creates the Kelsey Smith Act. The measure authorizes a law enforcement agency, as defined in the measure, to request and receive the call location of a user's communication device from a telecommunication company in order to respond to a call for emergency services or in an emergency situation that involves risk of death or serious physical harm. Every telecommunication company registered to do business in the state must annually submit emergency contact information to the Oklahoma State Bureau of Investigation to facilitate requests from a law enforcement agency.
