SB 391 provides for a defendant or their counsel to submit a written motion requesting that the district attorney produce or make available for inspection certain records outlined in the measure. The records shall be made available in a timely manner agreed to by both parties and produced within 15 days of the district attorney receiving the request. If the district attorney does not produce such records in the 15-day period, the defense may submit a motion for the district attorney to produce the records. Additionally, the measure authorizes the defense to issue a subpoena duces tecum to any law enforcement entity within the state that assisted in the arrest of the defendant and require such entity to produce the records requested in the motion.
