Bill Analysis

SJR 47 submits a constitutional amendment to the people that directs the Secretary of the State Election Board to require post-election audits in 10 randomly selected counties after every general election to preserve the security of the election system. The measure provides that any county may be required after any election to conduct a post-election audit for good cause. The Legislature is authorized by the measure to establish the method, timing, and procedures for conducting a postelection audit. Audit reports must be made available to the public.
