Bill Analysis

SB 2003 requires the court considering a civil case to schedule a conference to enter a scheduling order which establishes the time to join other parties to amend the pleadings, to file and hear motions, to complete discovery, to have a medical examination, to file proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law, and to accomplish any other matters appropriate to the case. The measure also provides that such an order may schedule a pretrial conference. The scheduling order shall be entered as soon as feasible after the case is at issue and shall not be altered except by leave of the judge assigned to the case.
