Research Analysis

The proposed policy committee substitute for HB3344 adds that foster parents must have no history of confirmed child abuse, neglect or sexual abuse; have a working vehicle; provide appropriate sleeping arrangements; complete all required training in a timely manner; and comply with discipline rules. The pcs also adds that potential kinship foster parents must be at least 18 years of age, but that they can be under 21. The pcs changes the charge of making a false or fraudulent application to a misdemeanor.

HB 3344 outlines requirements for persons applying to be foster parents. Any person who willfully makes a false or fraudulent application or provides false or fraudulent information or any person that aids or abets another in this will, upon conviction, be guilty of a misdemeanor.
