Bill Analysis

SB 1781 creates a 7-member Federal Education Deregulation Task Force until December 1, 2026, to study and make recommendations regarding federal education funding sources and state and local use of federal funds. It directs the task force to investigate and identify information related to all federal funding received by public school districts and the State Department of Education, all funding received from the U.S. Department of Education by any state or local agency or any nonprofit organization, and any and all federal statutory and regulatory requirements, policies, or guidance. It requires the task force to submit a report by December 1, 2026.
